

Invite for Day of Wellness:

Posted on Facebook, email, etc.

I have found a product that I am PASSIONATE about and I know that it can help my family with prevention and wellness. And that will positively impact our family for generations to come. My National Marketing Director will be coming in to town on _____ and you are invited to a smoothie party at 10am or a Wine and Wellness at 6pm, so please pick a time and join us! And by the way; if those two times don't work for you, please call me and we will find a special time for a private session that works just for you. I am so passionate about this product and I can't wait to share it with you.

Then start phone inviting followed by the traditional "Call, Send, Call"
